Dear Harry:

I understand through my best intelligence sources that you have been looking for a copy of my book, "Germany's Underground". I regret to say it is out of print; out of circulation; and not even obtainable in the drug stores. However, a private reprint was made some time ago and I take the greatest pleasure in sending you a copy, with all best wishes for the coming year.

The last I heard, plans were progressing satisfactorily to make arrangements for the visit here of your helicopter friend, and that someone will soon be in touch with you on it. I understand that this has been set up through the Air Force, but if not, please let me know.

Faithfully yours,
